E
Somewhere inside them back Florida pines there's a town with a Choctaw name
There's a little white church in a real tight curve on the edge of a field full of grain

E
Yeh, the preacher was a stand-up man shakin' hands every Sunday mornin' at the door
He loved his congregation, but he ran an operation sellin' more than the Word of the Lord,
And he called it...

CHORUS: E G A Holy water
E G A he called it holy water

E G A E
He bought a brand-new Lincoln, had a couple deacons thinkin' it was more than he could afford
E G
They knew somethin' was up when he was shuttin' his trunk
A E
at the church around one in the morn'

E G A E
When he was out of sight, they snuck around inside and found a door leadin' under the ground
E G
They popped the lock on the latch, walked down
A E
and flashed their lights and guess what they found Cellar full of...

CHORUS: E G A E Holy water

E G
BRIDGE: No one knows where it comes from buddy,
A E
but you can find it anywhere from Bama to Kentucky
E G A
Got the whole damn southeast side of the country lining up to pay top dollar
E G
Jaw tops twist when the sun starts settin'
A E
burns like hell, get ya high like heaven
E G A E
and Lord have mercy if they knew where they were gettin that Holy water

Well, the deacons pulled up to his house with a truck with the proof all crystal clear
He tried to play it off, but he knew he was caught, so he said, "Brothers, listen here."

You can call the law, or you can keep a secret, I'll cut you in and we can call it even Next Sunday mornin' 'round ten o'clock, there was two more Lincolns in the parking lot

BREAK: E G A E X2

BRIDGE: No one knows where it comes from buddy,
but you can find it anywhere from Bama to Kentucky
Got the whole damn southeast side of the country lining up to pay top dollar
Jaw tops twist when the sun starts settin'
burns like hell, get ya high like heaven
and Lord have mercy if they knew where they were gettin that Holy water

(fiddle lead over E)

Now there's new stained glass, new pews in the back, nobody even asked no questions and a sign out front with some letters readin' John chapter two verse one..amen
